Permanent & Full Time - Raglan

Do you believe that libraries are hubs that nurture community participation? Do you have a passion for all that is literary and learning? Does living and working in a community that encourages creativity and celebrates diversity sound like a dream? Then we have an amazing opportunity for you.

An opportunity has arisen for a Library Co-ordinator based in Raglan. This library is representative of our community and has been nurtured into what it is by a wonderful team that is committed to delivering outstanding service across both Council and library functions.

The Raglan Library Co-ordinator is responsible for ensuring the needs of our library members are met in a way that tailors every interaction. Well supported by the wider team, this role is the driving force to support innovative and creative conversation to evolve our services and our space.

Although the role is based in Raglan the successful applicant will be part of our district wide Library Leadership Group and be expected to support strategic thinking by contributing to business and long term planning activities. Libraries are changing globally and we are looking for someone who understands global trends and wants to be a part of co-designing the journey that we are on.

A key focus of this role is community engagement and an ability to work in a changing, challenging, fast-paced environment is a must. You will be an ambassador for the Waikato District for the many visitors that walk through our doors. No two days are the same in Raglan!

To be successful in this role you will have:

- a minimum of two years library work experience, preferably in local government;
- a library qualification, preferably at Diploma level;
- proven experience coordinating work flow in a customer driven environment;
- strong communication, resource and budget management skills.

If this sounds like an opportunity you would enjoy, we would love to hear from you.
